Discussion

Assessment of Agricultural Capability

In assessing agricultural capability, the Commission refers in part to agricultural capability mapping and ratings. The ratings are interpreted using the Canada Land Inventory (CLI), 'Soil Capability Classification for Agriculture' system, or the BC Land Inventory (BCLI), 'Land Capability Classification for Agriculture in B.C.' system.

The agricultural capability of the soil of the subject property is

Class 2 – Land in this class has minor limitations that require good ongoing management practices or slightly restrict the range of crops, or both.

Class 3 – Land in this class has limitations that require moderately intensive management practices or moderately restrict the range of crops, or both.

Subclasses

D undesirable soil structure
T topography
W excess water

Assessment of Agricultural Suitability

The Commission assessed whether external factors such as encroaching non-farm development have caused or will cause the land to become unsuitable for agriculture. The Commission does not believe there are external factors that render the land unsuitable for agricultural use.

Assessment of Impact on Agriculture

The Commission also assessed the impact of the proposal against the long term goal of preserving agricultural land. The Commission acknowledged the Township of Langley Council's motion to support the proposed subdivision as the proposal complies with the Township's Rural Plan and Zoning Bylaw minimum parcel size requirements. However, the subject property does not lie within the Small Farms/Country Estate designation endorsed by the Commission.

The Commission noted the property has good agricultural capability and that the current size makes for a suitable agricultural property. It believed the proposed subdivision would significantly reduce the overall agricultural potential of the property and unduly limit its suitability for small scale agriculture. Another concern was that if this subdivision were permitted it would heighten the expectations of other property owners in the area to be able to do the same.

Conclusions

1. That the land under application has agricultural capability and is appropriately designated as ALR.

2. That the land under application is suitable for agricultural use.
3. That the proposal will impact agriculture.
4. That the proposal is inconsistent with the objective of the Agricultural Land Commission Act to preserve agricultural land.
