Discussion

Assessment of Agricultural Capability

In assessing agricultural capability, the Commission refers in part to agricultural capability mapping and ratings. The ratings are interpreted using the Canada Land Inventory (CLI), 'Soil Capability Classification for Agriculture' system, or the BC Land Inventory (BCLI), 'Land Capability Classification for Agriculture in B.C.' system.

The agricultural capability of the soil of the subject property based on 1:20 000 soil capability mapping undertaken by the Ministry of Environment is rated as Class 4 with soil moisture deficiency and excess water limitations improvable to Class 2 with topography and undesirable soil structure limitations. The Commission's site inspection suggested that at least half of the property could be improved.

Class 2 – Land in this class has minor limitations that require good ongoing management practices or slightly restrict the range of crops, or both.

Class 4 – Land in this class has limitations that require special management practices or severely restrict the range of crops, or both.

Assessment of Agricultural Suitability

The Commission assessed whether external factors such as encroaching non-farm development have caused or will cause the land to become unsuitable for agriculture. The Commission did not believe that there are external factors that render the land unsuitable for agricultural use. It further noted that the adjacent property to the west appeared to have significant agricultural potential.

Assessment of Impact on Agriculture

The Commission also assessed the impact of the proposal against the long term goal of preserving agricultural land. The Commission considered that the subdivision of the property would reduce its agricultural potential and encourage its development for two rural residential lots.

Conclusions

1. That the land under application has agricultural capability and is appropriately designated as ALR.
2. That the land under application is suitable for agricultural use.
3. That the proposal will impact agriculture.
4. That the proposal is inconsistent with the objective of the Agricultural Land Commission Act to preserve agricultural land.
